SUMMARY

As a React Developer with 2+ years of professional experience, I have a strong foundation in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and React. My expertise lies in developing responsive user interfaces using frameworks like Bootstrap and creating engaging user experiences. I am proficient in writing clean, maintainable, and semantic code and have hands-on experience with Git for version control and GitHub for repository management. Dedicated to continuous learning and collaboration, I'm committed to continuous learning and building functional web applications from design to deployment.
